THE NEXT REP.

THINK CLEARER.
RESPOND FASTER.
KEEP PLAYING.

ONE BAD PLAY DOES NOT DEFINE YOU.

WHAT YOU DO NEXT DOES.

A practical, independent guide for basketball players. Save the pages that matter to you.

THE PROBLEM

ONE MISTAKE BECOMES FIVE.

A mistake is normal. Letting it affect the next possession is optional.

01 / MISSED SHOT

You hesitate.

You pass up the next open shot because you are thinking about the last miss.

02 / TURNOVER

You disconnect.

You replay the turnover instead of getting back on defense.

03 / DEFENSIVE ERROR

You stop talking.

You get frustrated and miss the next rotation.

THE GOAL: LEARN. RESET. PLAY.

YOUR SIMPLE SYSTEM

RECOGNIZE. RESET. RESPOND.

Three steps you can use without calling a timeout.

STEP 01

RECOGNIZE

Name what happened: “I forced that pass.” No drama. No labels.

STEP 02

RESET

Exhale. Relax your shoulders. Use a short cue: “Next play.”

STEP 03

RESPOND

Choose one useful action: sprint back, communicate, cut, or get ready to shoot.

ACTION FIRST. CONFIDENCE CAN FOLLOW.

REAL GAME EXAMPLES

STOP THINKING. START ACTING.

Replace the thought spiral with a basketball action.

MISSED TWO OPEN SHOTS

“SHOULD I STOP SHOOTING?”

Next rep: Get your feet ready. Take the next good look.

TURNED IT OVER

“COACH WILL BENCH ME.”

Next rep: Sprint back. Find the ball. Communicate.

BIGGER DEFENDER

“I CANNOT SCORE ON THEM.”

Next rep: Read their feet. Attack the available advantage.

PLAYER PERSPECTIVE

“Overthinking is part of the game. LTS has helped me develop an action-based framework for attacking obstacles in-game.”

MIKYLE MALABUYOC
SFU MBB · Point Guard

READ THE GAME

MAKE THE GAME FEEL SLOWER.

The game feels slower when you recognize useful information earlier.

BALL SCREEN / GOES UNDER

SPACE TO SHOOT

If you are a capable shooter and have space, be ready to shoot.

BALL SCREEN / TRAILS OVER

ATTACK DOWNHILL

Use the advantage created by the screen. Read the help.

HELP DEFENDER STEPS UP

FIND THE NEXT PASS

See the roller or open teammate. Make the simple read.

PLAYER PERSPECTIVE

“The game has slowed down for me a lot. I can think clearer and can make better reads.”

MARCUS HUANG
Grade 9 Basketball Player

SAVE THIS PAGE

YOUR NEXT REP STARTS NOW.

Choose one response to practice in your next game.

WHEN THIS HAPPENS:

INSTEAD OF THIS:

I WILL DO THIS:

EXAMPLE

When I miss an open shot, instead of hesitating, I will prepare for the next good shooting opportunity.

ONE PLAY. ONE RESPONSE. THE NEXT REP.